

UNESCO

Students from numerous nations attend our school, cultures meet each other. Since 1991 Albert-Schweitzer-School has been a part of the worldwide network of UNESCO- project-schools. In our school program we have intercultural communication and intercultural studies as a focus.

We concentrate on the following measures:

“UNESCO starts with us”: class projects, which support and integrate the students in their diverse facilities and backgrounds.

“UNESCO challenges us”: project days and discussion events are held for intermediate and upper-level students, which illustrate the worldwide work of UNESCO.

“UNESCO needs partners”: partnership projects with foreign partners in education, who we support by sales returns from bazars and festivals.

Intercultural encounter trips to France, England and Spain promote language skills and the contact between teenagers from the respective countries.

(transl. by Dorcas Malela, July 2016)